

Navy Offers Assignment Incentive Pay For Billets In Guam And Sasebo

The Navy has expanded the Assignment Incentive Pay (AIP) pilot program to include most enlisted shore billets in Guam, as well as those billets aboard afloat units based in Sasebo, Japan.

Qualifying jobs are posted on the Super Job Advertising and Selection System (JASS) for Guam billets in the pay grades of E-4 through E-9.

The enlisted type duty code for Guam has been changed from overseas remote land-based sea duty (type 3 duty) to overseas shore duty (type 6 duty) to facilitate the expansion.

To be eligible for AIP, Sailors must:

- Be U.S. Navy or U.S. Naval Reserve active-duty Sailors.
- Be fully qualified for the job requested.
- Be in a sea/shore rotation rating.
- Apply for the job via Super JASS.
- Be eligible for assignment in a "for duty" status.
